DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. Claims 22-24, 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 22: "a plurality of wall elements" is a double inclusion.

Claim 23: "a plurality of wall elements" is a double inclusion.

Claim 24: "a plurality of tubular member" is a double inclusion, and "member" should have been – members --.

Claim 30: "a plurality of tubular members" is a double inclusion

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 21-23, 27-29, 31-32, 34-39 and 41-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bosma et al. (6,241,746).

As to claims 21-23, 27-29, 31-32, 34-39 and 41-44, Bosma (Fig. 1-10) discloses a self-expanding blood filter 10/30 made of a material such as shape memory alloy nitinol (claim3), wall engaging strands 12/42, filter strands 14/16/44/46, retainer 18/20/22/38/40, catheter 32 and shaft 34 having loop 36/38 for grasping the retainer as recited in the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3734

2. Claims 24-26, 30, 33 and 40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over NOTT et al-5,709,704.

As to claims 24-26, 30, 33 and 40, NOTT (Figs. 1-2, 4-8) discloses a self-expanding blood filter of nitinol (column 1, lines 66-67) comprising a wall engaging portion with wall engaging strands, a filter portion with filtering strands, tubular members 106/108 (Fig. 4), anchoring members 116/118 (Fig. 4) as recited in the claims, retainer 16/160/178 (Fig. 1-2, 5, 6-7) and all other structural limitations as claimed. NOTT does not disclose retainer 16/160/178 formed as a collar and being releasable from the filter. However, O'CONNELL (Figs. 1, 12, 13, 14, 16, 19, 22, 24, 27-29, 32) discloses a blood filter with a releasable retainer 22/106/106'/206/306/406/506/606/706, especially collar retainer 106' for converting a blood filter from a conical configuration to temporarily filter a blood flow to a cylindrical configuration to deactivate the filtering function of the device when the filtering of the blood flow is no longer needed. In view of O'CONNELL, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to make NOTT retainer 16/160/178 releasable so as to convert NOTT device from a conical configuration to temporarily filter a blood flow and to a cylindrical configuration to deactivate the filtering function of the device when the filtering of the blood flow is no longer needed.
